Agency: Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment

Purpose of Contact: Obtain concurrence for not replacing the rock in T231A secondary containment

Discussion

The rock currently in the T231A secondary containment is there to hold down the liner used for secondary containment and to protect the surface of the liner from impacts and Sun deterioration. This rock was containment as a result of the 11/22/02 spill and is currently being removed. At this time it is not planned to use T231A as a future hazardous waste storage tank. Therefore, we will not put rock back on top of the liner at this time.

T231A could be used as a backup to T231B. If T231A will be used for hazardous waste storage the need for rock will be re-evaluated.
